Labor Chiefs Reach Truce, Revolt Aired

Reuther Seen Due To Have Increased Power In Policies

By NORMAN WALKER

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders emerged with an uneasy truce today after a revolt led by Walter Reuther against AFL-CIO President George Meany's one-man direction of federal policies.

It wasn't exactly clear who had won. But Reuther and other leaders of the former CIO felt their voices would be reflected more in the policies of the merged, 14-million-member organization.

Capital 'Show' Seen

For one thing, it looks now as if the Washington meeting of the AFL-CIO is planning to underline America's unemployment problem. It will be along more spectacular lines as urged by Reuther. It probably won't be the mass march of unemployed Reuther first proposed, but it will likely be more of a show than the strictly legislative conference of union officials Meany advocated.

The revolt had boiled for a week behind the scenes of the annual winter meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. It began when Meany—head of the old AFL—chided Reuther—head of the old CIO—for holding a session of the Economic Policy Committee while Meany was delayed in Washington by a cold. Meany was reported angry at Reuther's unemployment march project.

Reuther, chairman of the economic committee, retorted that Meany had never attended economic policy meetings. Anyway, the red-haired Auto Workers Union chief said, as chairman he should have a relatively free hand at mapping economic policy, at least in the committee stage. Reuther said if he couldn't run the economic committee, he might as well quit the post.

Carey Backs Reuther

Reuther was backed by James B. Carey, No. 2 man in the federation's CIO faction. The meeting got so hot that Meany ordered Carey to leave his seat. The scrappy Carey refused.

Meany, Reuther and other high federation officials failed to resolve the conflict at two secret breakfast meetings. A showdown session was held Monday night. Meany declined to comment afterward. Reuther told newsmen: "Nobody ever talked about understanding now on things where there were misunderstandings before."

Hopes Stirred Two Physicians Are Still Alive

LITTLETON, N.H. (AP)—A faint radio message today gave searchers hope that two doctors missing on a plane flight are still alive somewhere in the rugged, snow-covered White Mountains area.

Ground and air search teams concentrating their hunt for appointments to primary schools. They included 400 named by ex-President Fulgencio Batista and granted for personal gain and convicted of assassination, homicide and robbery while fighting against 14 years. It ordered the guerrillas in Oriente province. The cabinet charged that many of the Batista appointments were new ones issued. The government also ordered suspension of pension payments total to 324. Fourteen others were sentenced to death in Pinar del Rio province.

Battle Over 'Rights'

Son Of Campanella Held In Gang Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—A son of former Dodger catcher Roy Campanella and 17 other youths were arrested Monday after a gang fight.

David Campanella, 15, was charged with juvenile delinquency. Police said he was a leader of a gang called "the Chaplains," who challenged another gang to a fight over "rights" to hang around a bowling alley in Flushing, Queens.

Police said the gangs arranged to meet Monday, to settle the issue. Police spotted about 30 boys in a vacant lot and investigated. Six of the former CIO felt their voices would be reflected more in the policies of the merged, 14-million-member organization.

Campanella and three others, under 16 were charged with juvenile delinquency. The other boys were charged with disorderly conduct. No one was injured.

Police said "the Chaplains" gang was made up largely of Negro and Spanish-speaking youths. Campanella is a Negro. The other boys involved in the fight were white.

He and two of the boys picked up with him are members of a "rock 'n' roll" singing group—the Del-Cords—who have appeared on TV and cut a couple of records, which have yet to be released.

At the Bronx Youth House, where David was kept overnight, a man accompanying David's mother was involved in a fracas with a photographer.

Jack Baumohl, 47, on assignment with the New York Mirror, said an unidentified Negro accompanying Mrs. Campanella smashed his camera and pummeled him after he took her picture.

David's father has been active in a campaign against juvenile delinquency. He could not be reached for comment.

Surgery Possible For Edith Piaf

NEW YORK (AP)—French singer Edith Piaf, suffering from bleeding ulcers, entered Presbyterian Hospital today for possible surgery.

Dr. Jack Abry, Miss Piaf's physician, said the decision on whether to operate would be made within the next 24 hours.

The singer, 42, became ill last Wednesday and was forced to cancel her singing engagements at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Castro Regime Acts To Check School, Hospital Graft In Cuba

By TED EDIGER
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government acted today to clean up graft in the nation's school system and hospital construction program.

The cabinet approved a decree annulling hundreds of teachers' appointments to primary schools. They included 400 named by ex-President Fulgencio Batista and granted for personal gain and convicted of assassination, homicide and robbery while fighting against 14 years. It ordered the guerrillas in Oriente province. The cabinet charged that many of the Batista appointments were new ones issued. The government also ordered suspension of pension payments total to 324. Solon Alone In Criticism Of Johnson

Proxmire Campaign Against Leader In Senate Not Backed

By JACK RELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A campaign by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) to clip the authority of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas remained a one-man effort today.

No other senator publicly backed Proxmire's demand in the Senate Monday for revival of party caucuses to direct and control the party leaders. He said Johnson is exercising "immense powers" without responsibility to anybody but the voters of Texas.

Once Praised Him

Proxmire, who himself once praised Johnson as the second most powerful man in government, said he will discuss in a later speech the implications of Johnson's leadership "and the power it has generated."

Behind the scenes there were other Democrats who obviously agreed with Proxmire that they have surrendered to Johnson's sweeping authority never before so concentrated in a party chieftain. But these Democrats avoided publicly airing their views.

Proxmire himself said in an interview he had been told by some other Senators they were in sympathy with his views. But he said he wouldn't name them publicly.

He said he hadn't discussed his speech in advance with Democratic colleagues because "I felt it wouldn't be fair to involve them in something that might make difficulties for them with the leadership."

In this connection, one Democratic critic of Proxmire who didn't want his name used, quipped that the Wisconsin senator had picked Washington's Birthday to "make his farewell address."

Senators most familiar with Johnson's operations said, however, they expect the majority leader to bend over backwards in public efforts to demonstrate he is being fair to Proxmire and others who may view his leadership as something less than fully satisfactory to them.

Johnson Has Influenza

Johnson himself was in Texas, confined to his home with influenza. Aides said it was not likely he would have any public comment.

Proxmire's chief complaint was that the individual Democrats have no voice in determining which legislation is to be brought before the Senate for a vote.

Johnson operates in such instances with a nine-member policy committee he heads and whose members he appoints. Some Senate liberals feel this group is weighted on the conservative side.

Felons To Face Rackets Probe, Serving Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alleged record counterfeiting plots and ax-wielding, acid-throwing raids by Chicago jukebox racketeers were subjects for Senate investigation today.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, announced two witnesses are being brought here from the state prison at Joliet, Ill., where they are serving sentences.

He named them as James Rini and Alex Ross, both of Chicago. He said Ross is serving time for destruction of seven jukeboxes.

HE'S PROBLEM SMOKER—Lawrence W. Smith, of Peoria, Ill., took up smoking on his second birthday two months ago and now he smokes four or five cigarettes a day. Boost In Pay To Be Sought By Engineers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said today it will ask for a 12 per cent increase in wage rates for its more than 50,000 engineers. Notices will be served Monday on major U.S. railroads.

Chief Engineer Guy L. Brown said the union will ask the 12 per cent hike to be figured on rates in effect Nov. 1, when a three-year contract expires.

Present cost-of-living allowances also would be incorporated into daily rates under the proposal, Brown said.

Under the Railway Labor Act, requests for wage increases must be served well in advance of contract expiration. With the notices goes a request for a meeting within 30 days.

BLE officers on each railroad will serve the notice. They also will ask for increases in all special payments; and an escalator clause based on the cost-of-living index in effect in September 1959.

The BLE wage committee is headed by Perry S. Heath, Cleveland, assistant chief engineer.

Brown said similar demands are being made by the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and the Switchmen's Order of North America. The three organizations are cooperating on their 1959 wage demands.

Ball Of Fire Lights Skies

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A flaming bluish green object streaked over Michigan about 6:30 a.m. today.

State troopers sighted it traveling from east to west. Radio stations had calls from excited persons who also saw the object.

Two operators in the control tower of the Grand Rapids Airport in western Michigan said they believed it was a meteorite. The operators, John Moore and Robert Boylan, said the object also was sighted at airport control towers in Chicago and Madison, Wis.

"It was a dandy," Moore and Boylan agreed. "The best meteorite we ever saw."

Elderly Widow Found Drowned

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—A note found in her home today led authorities to the Chester River and the body of Mrs. Addie H. Usilton, widow of long-time Kent News editor Fred G. Usilton. She was 73.

Coroner Robert Farr gave a verdict of death by drowning. Mrs. Usilton had been ill for about two months and recently returned to her home after spending some time in Kent-Queen Annes Hospital and a nursing home.

Church Head's Exile Revoked

LONDON (AP)—Archbishop Makarios was told today that the order deporting him from Cyprus had been revoked and that he can now go home.

The 45-year-old Greek Orthodox churchman, leader of the Greek-speaking Cypriots, received the news at his hotel suite in London. The British exiled him in 1956, accusing him of supporting the terrorist Greek Cypriot underground, EOKA.

Solon's Stand Under Attack By Ave Maria

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A national Catholic weekly magazine disagrees with Sen. John Kennedy's statement about the separation of a public official's religious beliefs and his governmental duties.

The March 7 issue of Ave Maria quotes Kennedy as saying: "Whatever one's religion in private life may be, for the official holder nothing takes precedence over his oath to uphold the Constitution and all its parts—including the First Amendment and the strict separation of church and state."

The magazine's editorial said that "to relegate your conscience to your 'private life' is not only unrealistic, but dangerous as well."

Ave Maria is published by the Holy Cross Fathers at the University of Notre Dame.

The statement by Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, was in a national magazine article concerning a Catholic's chances of becoming president in 1960.

Board Rejects Negro Transfer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Applications of seven Negroes for transfer to white schools have been rejected. No action has been taken on two other applicants.

Six applicants were turned down, school Supt. Fraser Banks said Monday, because he felt transfer would not be in the best interest of the children involved.

Banks said the seventh was rejected because the applicant was not old enough.

Boy, Two, Is Allowed Five Smokes A Day

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A 2-year-old Peoria boy about a month ago picked up a lit cigarette and smoked it. Next day he wanted another. He got it.

Now the little tot, Lawrence Smith, smokes five cigarettes a day. His mother, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, says she is worried because she can't break him of the habit.

"I've tried," Mrs. Smith said. "But Lawrence cries and cries until he gets his cigarettes. He wants his 'smoke.'"

Mrs. Smith, a divorcee who works as a waitress, said she is going to take her son to a doctor to find out why he likes to smoke cigarettes.

Khrushchev Airs Views At Kremlin

Red Party Rally Told West's Plan 'Not Acceptable'

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, emerging from two days of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, threw cold water today on the West's plan for a four-power meeting on Germany.

Khrushchev told a political rally in the Kremlin that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France cannot discuss German reunification because "this is a question for the two German states themselves."

A four-power meeting at the foreign minister level, as suggested by the West, might increase instead of reduce international tension, Khrushchev declared.

Restates Soviet Stand

Khrushchev conceded that the four powers could discuss prevention of militarism in West and East Germany. But he then restated the Soviet stand that reunification should be settled only by the Germans themselves.

He also repeated the Soviet proposal for a conference of heads of government of all those nations that waged war against Hitler in World War II to work out a treaty with Germany.

The Western powers rejected this proposal in their recent notes calling for a four-power meeting on Germany at the foreign ministers level.

Khrushchev warned that any violation of the East German borders in the dispute over West Berlin would be considered an act of aggression against the Warsaw Pact powers.

While Khrushchev was speaking in the Kremlin, the visiting Macmillan was sight-seeing.

Macmillan called off a hunting trip scheduled for Wednesday, and planned a full day of informal talk with the Soviet leader at the British Embassy's villa outside Moscow.

The sightseeing today was with a purpose, a motor trip 90 miles northwest of Moscow to look over the world's largest atom smasher—the 10-billion-volt synchrotron at the Atomic Research Institute at Dubna.

Among the chief researchers at the institute is Italian-born scientist Bruno Pontecorvo, who slipped out of England in October 1950 to work in the Soviet Union. He and Macmillan were not expected to meet.

Papers Feature Visit

Moscow newspapers gave Macmillan the warmest reception since his arrival Saturday. The Communist party organ Pravda and government paper Izvestia carried front-page photographs of Monday's formal meeting between the two leaders and devoted nearly two of their six pages to recounting Macmillan's activities and speeches.

The papers and Moscow radio also gave full play to Monday night's dinner at the British Embassy, where Khrushchev hailed Macmillan as a man of peace.

Macmillan opened his speech with a tribute to Red Army Day and the Soviet role in winning World War II.

School Strike Broken, Paddle Does The Trick

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A group of mothers meet with Shelby County school officials today to air their complaints against a school principal who paddled 11 student strikers.

General Sessions Judge Willard Dixon ordered the informal conference after the mothers requested he issue assault and battery warrants against John Barnes, principal of Bartlett High School.

Barnes has admitted firmly applying a maple paddle to the seats of 11 boys and said "There are still seven or eight to go." He said the paddlings "nipped in the bud" a direct challenge to school authority.

Five Movie Actresses In Spotlight To Win Oscar As Niven Given Edge

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The spotlight was on the ladies today in Hollywood's annual carnival of Oscars.

For the first time in years, slight edge in the early betting, there was no clear-cut favorite. Niven was nominated for his role as the pathetic woman among the nominees for top actress. Not a tinted hair separates these five.

Elizabeth Taylor ("Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"); Susan Hayward ("The Old Man and the Sea"); Deborah Kerr ("Separate Tables"); Shirley MacLaine ("Some Came Running"); and Rusalind Russell ("Auntie Mame").

With the men, the story is different. David Niven and Spencer Tracy were established as odds-on favorites with Niven given a Country; Arthur Kennedy ("Some Came Running"); and Gig Young ("Teacher's Pet").

The supporting actress nominees are Peggy Cass ("Auntie Mame"); Wendy Hiller ("Separate Tables"); Martha Hyer ("Some Came Running"); Maureen Stapleton ("Lonely Hearts"); and Cara Williams ("The Defiant Ones").

Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier, who went through "The Defiant Ones," handcuffed to each other, are expected to cancel each other out of the running by their well matched performances.

The fifth male nominee is Paul Newman for "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

"Gigi," already winner of awards from the Screen Producers Guild and the Screen Directors Guild, is expected to repeat in the Academy Awards as best picture come April 6.

But competition from the other nominees will be stiff. They are "Auntie Mame"; "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"; "The Defiant Ones"; and "Separate Tables."

Talks Slated In AC Strike At Pittsburgh

Clash Erupts At Plant Gates, Two Men Are Injured

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. and United Auto Workers Union Local 1036 officials were scheduled to meet today to discuss the cause of a tussle between pickets and police that threatened to erupt into a full-scale riot.

Some 20 police officers rushed into the push-pull melee Monday. Pickets of the striking union had tried to block an attempt by the company to move two railroad flatcars into the plant.

Both sides said they will discuss the situation, which was reported to involve the removal of trans-formers from the plant to fill an order placed prior to the strike.

Twenty-six of some 50 pickets involved were arrested on disorderly conduct charges in the fray. Those arrested were released under $10 bond each, and police officials said court action would be withheld until after today's meeting.

Pittsburgh Safety Director Louis Rosenberg called the melee a case of "orderly disorderliness." Slight injuries were suffered by two men in the scuffle at the gates of the plant.

The train crew tried for about 2½ hours to move the diesel engine into the plant, but were frustrated when pickets formed human barricades in its path.

The police squad, summoned by management officials, tried to clear the tracks. However, as soon as officers hauled pickets off the tracks, others hopped back on.

Hundreds of spectators milled around the scene of the flareup, and added to the confusion.

The trouble was the first reported here since a nation-wide walkout was called against Allis-Chalmers Feb. 2 in a contract-disagreement.

Union and management officials, after a hurried conference, attributed the flareup to an "emotional outburst."

White Students Set To Observe Mixed Classes

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Two Southern students will come here next week to observe how the races get along in Atlantic City High School.

The students from the Lane High School in Charlottesville, Va., accepted an invitation from the Atlantic City High School student council to visit the racially integrated school.

The Southerners, John Baily and Miss Frances Webster, both 17, are president and vice president of their school's student legislature. They will spend their week here attending classes and athletic events and will top off their visit by going to the senior prom.

The pair will be guests at the homes of two local high school students.

Barbara Costello, president of the Atlantic City High School student council, said the cost of the Virginians' trip here will be paid out of student funds obtained through dances and other social events.

Khurshchev expressed regret that "it has not been possible to uphold the wartime alliance between Britain and the U.S.S.R. in the postwar world."

But he said the Soviets "think that the conversations between us will bring results; we think you want agreement even if all obstacles cannot be solved at once."

Papers Drop Crossword Contests, Answers Sold

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Both of Portland's daily newspapers report they have dropped their crossword puzzle contests because someone was getting the answers in advance.

The newspaper notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation that they suspected a national puzzle solution ring of supplying the right answer for a large fee.

The nationally syndicated contests provided cash prizes of $2,000 and more to local winners.

The Oregon Journal said it paid $2,000 to a Portland housewife 10 days ago, then "earned" she had not submitted the entry but had allowed her name to be used. The newspaper said she got $300, and a man who arranged for use of her name got $150. That left $2,150 for the man who set it up.

The newspaper said it learned of this when the woman disclosed her part in it after being paid.

The Journal said its puzzles came from Superior Features Syndicate in New York. The newspaper said it was a reputable agency, which could not determine how the correct answers were pirated. The Oregonian did.

Students Shun Engineer Course

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The United States faces a shocking drift of new students away from engineering, just when more engineers are most needed, a noted educator said today.

Opening a seminar of the Engineering Societies of New England, J. B. Wilbur, head of the department of civil and sanitary engineering of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, deplored the tendency to label the combined accomplishment of engineering and science as "scientific achievements."

Could you guess
a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong . . . perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

Catholics Urged To Join In Religious Sunday Act

BALTIMORE (AP)—Catholics appropriate measures are taken to stop its growth." In the Archdiocese of Baltimore have been urged to join in a "return to a truly religious observance of Sunday" and avoid unnecessary work or buying or merchandise on that day.

Archbishop Francis P. Keough said in a special statement that God's law "binds those on both sides of the counter."

"Catholic businessmen may not sell, nor may Catholic shoppers buy unnecessary items or services," he added.

"We strongly urge that our Catholic people join with their neighbors in a sincere effort to eradicate this vicious concept and practice of regarding Sunday as 'just another day of the week' and do all in their power to see that

Cubans Want Ventura, Termed Batista's Butcher

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of three stories on the activities of police and other agents who operated under the Batista regime in Cuba, both before and during the Castro revolution. Some of this information was reported by the Associated Press last April; some other aspects became known in the wake of Batista's flight into exile.

By ROBERT BEHRELLER

HAVANA (AP)—About a year ago a Havana lawyer obtained a writ for the release of a man held by the national police on charge of terrorism. He waited at the appointed place and time for the prisoner.

An auto bearing official license plates drove up. The lifeless body of his client was pushed out onto the pavement. An impeccably dressed man in his 40s, mustached and pleasant of visage, stepped out. He was the national police chief, Maj. Esteban Ventura. He told the lawyer:

"Here is your habeas corpus." Apocryphal as that may sound, Cubans familiar with the well-dressed policeman consider the story an understatement on his cruelty.

Maj. Ventura once worked as a butcher. Leaders of the Castro regime call him Fulgencio Batista's chief executioner. They view him as the drum major in a procession of violence that, by Fidel Castro's estimate, killed 20,000 Cubans.

The revolutionary government is seeking his extradition as a refugee from justice. He fled to the Dominican Republic when the Batista regime collapsed Jan. 1.

Ventura ran a tough police force that sat as judge and jury at the 5th and 9th police precincts in Havana.

Supplementing his activities were those of the dreaded SIM agents. SIM, the Military Investigation Service, operated a house of horror at the Bureau of Investigation. Prisoners brought to these places readily confessed to revolutionary activities. Many did not live to repudiate these confessions.

Ventura's chief chamber of operations was the 5th precinct station on Havana's East Side. Political prisoners and others suspected of rebel sympathies were brought to this filthy, dark basement. It has five 10x12 bare cells, with small double-barred windows, and one smaller windowless cell. All lack beds, faucets or drains. The walls are marked with stains which Castro investigators ascribe to the force of bullwhips or other leather weapons.

Prisoners were dumped into this basement through three rectangular openings, which also serve as drains, in a street level patio. Agents entered the basement through a secret circular stairway.

R. E. Broderick Assumes New Post

R. E. Broderick, Baltimore, has assumed the post of area steward for Maryland Local 37, Operating Engineers Union.

He was appointed by the Baltimore local following the resignation of Harry Hinkle, who held the post of business agent of Western Maryland Local 37-B here for a number of years.

The Operating Engineers Union is maintaining an office in the Allegany Labor Temple. It has jurisdiction in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and seven West Virginia counties.

The 1958 accident death toll in the United States was 91,000, or five per cent below the 1957 figure of 95,307 deaths.

This is the story told by Israel Heenaudez, 26, a guard at the 5th precinct station.

Several nights a week Ventura's agents, dressed as peasants, would arrive by auto. They would bring torture weapons to the cell through the secret entry.

"We never saw them on the main floor of the building. Soon we would hear muffled screams and cracks of the bullwhips. No body upstairs said anything. We all pretended not to hear. Neighbors who could hear never came.

Next day the police look away the documents seized.

"Later on duty downstairs we could see for ourselves what had been going on."

Agents also worked over suspects in streets and homes. One case was summarized at the recent trial of several policemen: The policemen broke down the door at 171 Continental St. last April. They yanked two students from bed, stood them facing a wall and shot them. Their money and an automobile were taken. Next day the police look away the documents seized.

Even the sacrosanct sphere of the Havana Bar Assn. did not escape the wrath of Ventura's police force.

The minutes of a meeting Feb. 10, 1958, show that the association unanimously agreed to petition the government to call new elections because it considered the existing regime "a factor of disorder."

For this effort, the association's headquarters were raided and the documents seized.

Tawes Aids Employer By Signing Measure Heading Off Tax Hike

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes moved today to help Maryland employers by signing into law an emergency measure designed to save many employers from having their unemployment benefit tax drastically increased April 1.

The tax on employers provides weekly benefits to the jobless.

Tawes' signature on the act means the majority of employers won't have to pay the maximum allowable tax of 2.7 per cent of their taxable payrolls.

This would have been necessary under the old law because the trust fund, depleted by recent unemployment, has dropped below a certain point.

The new law raises the tax on all employers to some extent but preserves the incentive system which benefits employers with records of stable employment.

It was proposed by Robert B. Kimble, director of employment security, and received quick passage in both houses. It will save nearly half the employers in the State from paying the maximum rate of 2.7 per cent. The increase would have been 900 per cent in many cases.

Kimble claimed the law will permit the State to continue the scheduled jobless benefits and assure the trust fund will stay at an adequate level for a year. He plans to have a permanent readjustment for recommendation next year.

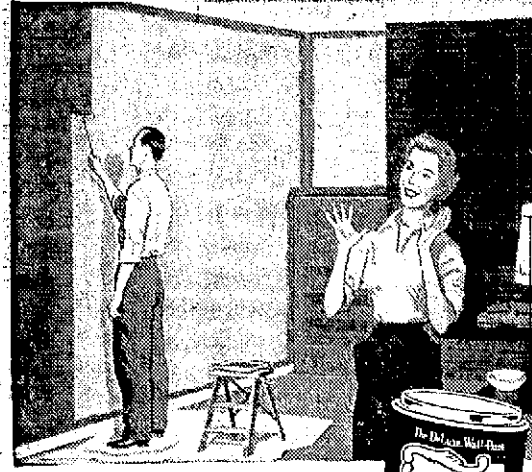

The plan was endorsed by both labor and management.

Tawes was scheduled to sign one other bill, a local measure. He had previously signed 65.

There were 37,600,000 families in the United States which owned cars in 1958, compared with 36,450,000 in 1957.

Illegal Stills Output, Raids Hit New High

BALTIMORE (AP)—The production of bootleg booze in Maryland wasn't affected by the recession last year. In fact, it bubbled along to new and higher levels.

But State revenue officials also reported the number of raids reached a new high.

The Alcoholic Beverages Division of the comptroller's office said its enforcement unit raided 59 illegal whisky stills during fiscal 1958. This was 20 more than were put out of business the previous year.

Mash capacity of the stills destroyed was put at nearly 100,000 gallons, more than double the 1957 figure of 47,663 gallons.

The State lost an estimated $187,765 in excise taxes through the moonshiners. This also was double the 1957 total.

Pianist Van Cliburn Hospitalized In N. Y.

A spokesman for the Texas pianist said the infection developed after Cliburn returned from a concert engagement in Atlanta. He entered the hospital today.

Truck Dispute Decision Due

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore County officials may decide today whether to ask a court order to free an oil truck from Mrs. James F. Thompson's driveway.

She took the keys out of the truck last Thursday because she was tired of trucks using her driveway.

Fire Marshal Louis C. Maisel said he would confer with Solicitor Johnson Bowie to determine whether court action should be sought to force removal of the truck. Maisel said it was a fire hazard in the driveway.

Struck By Truck, Woman, 65, Dies

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 65-year-old Baltimore woman was fatally injured yesterday when she was struck by a truck while crossing a city street.

Mrs. Yetta Sapperstein died at Union Memorial Hospital several hours after being hit by a panel truck driven by Irvin Becker, 43, also of Baltimore.

The dead woman was identified by her son, Nathan Scherr.

See Loses Fight To Ban Rock-Roller As Poet Laureate

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Sen. See would pick a poet who could write his battle for written legal safe-guard against the appointment of a cha cha or rock 'n' roll lyricist as poet laureate of Maryland.

See wanted a bill creating such an appointment during the week end in a post to include a requirement to fix the roads which Crown Prince Akihito and his commoner fiancee will travel on their wedding day, April 10.

Sen. North (D-Talbot), one of those who voted overwhelmingly against the proposed amendment, explained: "I am satisfied that if the governor picked a poet laureate he'd escape."

The gray fox can climb trees like a cat and uses them to escape dogs; the red fox can't climb and usually burrows to error picked a poet laureate he'd escape.

SRC Urges Legislature To Penalize Slow Drivers, Designate Certain Emergency Snow Routes

By GEORGE BOWEN
ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The State Roads Commission is asking the Legislature to legalize two of its actions.
Or at least adopt laws to permit enforcement directly what it has or intended to do.
Among 114 last-minute bills introduced last night were two to penalize slow drivers and to designate certain State routes as emergency snow routes.
The roads commission has been warning drivers it considered driving slowly enough to impede traffic to speed up on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge. The bill introduced last night at the request of Joseph Buscher, special attorney general for the commission, would permit the commission to establish "a minimum speed limit below which no person shall drive."
Violators would be subject to a fine of $1-$100.

SALISBURY (AP) — The Rev. Robert P. Varley, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, kept up the "show must go on" tradition here despite automobile accident injuries.
Father Varley, 38, was en route to the local television station the other night for a personal video appearance, when he was in a collision.
The clergymen went on to the station and did his show, then went to Peninsula General Hospital for a checkup of his injuries. He was treated for contusions of the head.

SALISBURY (AP) — A Board of License Commissioners will be established here through legislative act, Sen. Mary L. Nock says.
Sen. Nock said the board would license sellers of beer and, if liquor sales are authorized, the sale of liquor, too. She said she would ask Gov. Flaws to name the board and would introduce legislation to set the salaries of three board members.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Approximately 225 Maryland 4-H Club members, representing every county in the state, will visit the Statehouse and the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis March 7 in an all-day Citizenship Tour.
The tour is planned as a part of the observance of National 4-H Club Week, Feb. 28-March 7. After the tour a citizenship ceremony will be held, with a citizenship pin and a scroll of the Bill of Rights going to each youth who will be 21 years of age during the year.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A nine-week Space Education Institute for educational leaders and teachers is scheduled by the Maryland section of the American Rocket Society and the University of Maryland beginning March 2.
Dr. Orval Ulry, institute coordinator and university associate professor of education, said the program will permit participants to meet and hear outstanding authorities discuss space science and technology.

All sessions will be held in the Enoch Pratt Free Library Auditorium each Monday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Julius P. Parran, chairman of Maryland's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says the parity price of most farm products dropped slightly the first of this year.

The cause, he said, is that the percentage of the farmer's outlay going into production costs has increased in recent years, while the percentage spent for living, interest, taxes and wages has dropped. The net effect has been to reduce parity prices about 3½ per cent from what they would have been otherwise.

Scout Leaders Will Have Weekend Event

Adult leaders of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will have a Scouters weekend at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

Willis V. Smith, scout executive, said leaders may drop in at the camp site anytime after Friday evening. No formal or planned activities have been arranged for the session.

Smith said those planning to spend a night should bring their bedroll and food. No reservations are necessary, Smith said.

Postage stamps first came into use in Great Britain in 1840, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The roads commission recently snow tires. The penalty again designated certain highways as "emergency snow routes." Notices were carried in the newspapers. commission bills would legalize One of the bills introduced "yield right-of-way signs" already would authorize such designation. Others would authorize toll declared a snow emergency. It bridge and tunnel employees to would be a misdemeanor to drive rest traffic violators, raise eight on such roads without chains or ly the fee for advertising signs along state highways, raise the amount of money which could be transferred from construction to maintenance funds from 4 to 5 million dollars, and a catch-all measure including explosives on approaches to toll facilities. Extension of the season for catching some fish is before the Legislature.

One bill would permit bass, and shad March 1-Sept. 15. Two Cecil County delegates, November. For walleye it is March 15-Nov. 30. The Harris and Moore, also proposed that the season for catching bass is that no fishing at all be permitted that no fishing at all be permitted waters—Chesapeake Bay—by hook and line only. OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

An Open Letter

LETTER TO Nikita Khrushchev: Men of good will in this world are growing tired of the noisy threats of war with which you punctuate your claims of peaceful intent. You have rattled the saber once more in your latest effort to hoodwink the world into believing that the Western allies are poaching on Communist soil when they stick to their rights in, to and from West Berlin. We are desperately weary, too, of your endless succession of trumped-up crises, of which the Berlin affair is merely the latest and possibly most dangerous example. Everyone understands the basic menace to stability—and hence to peace—that arises from a divided Berlin, surrounded by Communist territory, and from a divided and dismembered Germany.

BUT THIS IS A situation that has prevailed since the close of World War II. Real unity for Germany, with broad assurances of European peace, could have been had at any time that you or your predecessor, Joseph Stalin, were willing to accept an honorable and generally fair settlement. This willingness you have never shown, and do not show now. What a colossal waste, what a terrible distortion and warping of human effort, what a monumental burden you have thrust upon the world in your arrogant, greedy pursuit of global power. Even the "peaceful competition" you propose between East and West in your unwelcome moments is a senseless game of waste.

WE LIVE IN A world beset by a thousand real problems of human survival, adjustment, advance toward higher living levels. Booming populations threaten to flood out world resources in the decades and centuries ahead. Men desperately eager to live better cannot be sure that tomorrow, the long tomorrow, they will live as well. In this crisis, the earth's true crisis, every statesman worthy of the name should be intent upon the great dilemma we all face. And how are you meeting it? In an age when we should be husbanding every ounce of steel, every kernel of food, you and your followers are offering yourselves to the world as the great wastrels, the great spoilers, the burners of energy for the sake of personal power, not for the world's good. Is this how you want history to know you?

ALMOST THREE million American mothers now hold jobs outside their homes. That leaves an awful lot of fathers to do the dishes.

Empty Evidence

THERE IS nothing quite so pitiful as the sight of a fraud trying desperately to conceal the fraud, as the Russians still are doing with regard to the unarmed U. S. Air Force transport they shot down last September 2. Realizing that their phony denials aren't making much of a dent against the brutal evidence of our taped recording of their attacking pilots' air conversations, they have "found" something new. They say the wreckage of our plane contained the remains of special technical equipment "whereby the plane could not lose its course." Their conclusion is that it deliberately flew over Soviet soil. Assuming just for argument's sake that some sort of precision guidance equipment was carried (there is no U. S. confirmation), we have also to accept the possibility that it might have been faulty at the time, or in conflict with purposely deceptive Soviet radio signals. In any event, only an investigation by the manufacturer of such equipment, made right after the crash in the perfect assurance it had not later been tampered with, could provide any real proof whether or not the device was working properly at the time. To the Russians it would be as meaningless as picking up a piece of ancient junk from the town dump.

James Marlow Will Khrushchev War Over West Berlin?

WASHINGTON — There are three tantalizing questions in Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's willingness to create a crisis over his demand that the Allies get out of West Berlin. Why did he do it? picking May 27 as a virtual deadline and Berlin as the place? Is he willing to have a showdown with the West — even if it means war? Is this the only crisis he has in mind for the West — or is it just the beginning of a series?

WEST BERLIN, 140 miles inside Communist East Germany, represents many things which, added up, must provide a big headache to the Soviets. It is a Western outpost and listening post deep within the Communist world, although its residents give their allegiance to West Germany. It is a harbor for refugees from communism. Its glitter is a reminder to East Germans and East Europeans that living standards are higher in the West.

THE 10,000 troops the Allies have in West Berlin, through World War II agreement with the Soviets, are a symbol of Western power and authority behind the Iron Curtain. These are all irritating reasons which may make Khrushchev want to get the Allied troops out of the city's Western zone. If the Allies agreed to that — and right now they talk as if they won't — their grip on West Berlin would crumble.

Peter Edson Dillon Urges Loans, Not Doles, To Others

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The increasing influence of Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon in shaping U. S. foreign policy along new lines makes him the man to watch in any scramble to find a successor for John Foster Dulles.

As the cold war shifts from political and military rivalry to business competition for world leadership, economic policy has become increasingly important. In such a situation it becomes necessary to have a diplomat around with extensive practical knowledge of how international banking and trade are carried on. Undersecretary Dillon is such a man. In the two years he has been in the State Department with supervision over international economic affairs, he has made these marks.

U. S. FOREIGN aid program has been shifted from a grant to a loan basis. Some grants are still necessary to countries like Korea, Formosa and Jordan. This is because their economies won't support the military establishment necessary for their defense against communism. Everywhere else, the emphasis is now on loans — not giveaway.

Last August, Undersecretary Dillon announced that the United States would support Latin American proposals for an Inter-American Development Association. This was a change in policy.

The Eisenhower administration's previous position had been that existing institutions like Export-Import and World Banks could meet all Latin-American credit needs.

Dillon, who had been head of U. S. and Foreign Securities Corp. before he became ambassador to Paris, knew the requirements for expanded foreign investment. He played a leading role in having the old policy changed.

At the World Bank and International Monetary Fund meetings in New Delhi last October, Dillon spelled out in exact terms the U. S. program for aid to needy countries. And at these same meetings U. S. Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson gave U. S. support to increasing

NEW YORK — A colleague reports a picture of lonely despondency, France Nuyen, moping unhappily after the curtain went down because she had no date, nowhere to go, and was having no fun being a Broadway star. Touching in so young and attractive a girl, but every coin has two sides and so has every life.

If Miss Nuyen is as arrogant to her dates as not less than five Broadway reporters privately have told me she was to them at interviews, then there is reason for her loneliness.

One of them, critic as well as interviewer, said: "She was so unbearable, I all but walked out in the middle of the interview. I don't have to put up with that kind of nonsense."

ON THE OTHER hand, at least three Oriental players of importance in the current shows have told me that Miss Nuyen is a frightened young girl to whom stardom came too swiftly and too early and she wonders constantly what will happen to her when "Suzie Wong," her hit, closes. She feels there is always a scarcity of jobs for those who are or look Oriental and she fears long unemployment and being forgotten.

If one who declined in advance to interview her, on the basis that life is too short for unpleasantness, may testify, I would suggest to her that a little more kindness and simplicity might help her both personally and professionally.

IT IS NOT generally known, but Tony Curtis was a submariner, and a good one, during World War II. He not only was a good man to have on a submarine, he also was a morale help. He had wit and mischievousness and once, during a long cruise when only two films were available on board, he crased the crew's boredom by inventing a game, every time the films were 1. he took on the job of speaking the dialogue for the male star, varying it in accents, attitudes and cleanliness. He encoded that sometimes he supplied audacious and for-men-only wordage for the stars, and kept the crew in stitches.

ONE OF THE stars was Cary Grant and Curtis became perfect at mimicking the near-Cockney accent of Grant, with the result that after the war he became interested in being an actor and his submarine performances gave him confidence. Now, he and Grant are in Florida making a submarine picture for Universal.

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . . Anarchy has emerged from lesser indignities than one that has been heaped on my friend Benny Tosti.

Don't know Benny Tosti, eh? Well, Benny's one of the pioneers who changed the East Forties of Manhattan into Steakville, U.S.A. Ancient mariners arriving within 50 miles of New York often swear that in foul weather they sniff the air and order the helmsman to wheel her straight for that heady aroma blowing offshore.

It says so in Benny's lease. It says, right there in black and white, that the neighbors object to the aroma of garlic and that if Benny gets gay with the heady stuff, out he goes like a bum. And so he lives out his days and nights, mourning for days before the skyscraper ran him out of his wonderfully aromatic old joint on Third Avenue. It's sadism, that's what it is.

HERE'S WHAT happened to the 3,968 students locked out of Little Rock's four senior high schools by Gov. Faubus' decree: 2,673 transferred to other schools, 1,929 are attending the city's three largest private schools all segregated, 405 are taking courses by mail, 1,100 enrolled in public schools in other parts of the state, 339 left the state. 825 are getting no formal education.

WASHINGTON—A young woman with the callithumpian name of Ymelda came into my office today flaunting a consonant where a vowel should be. "I ask for no special privileges," she said. "I want to be just one of the girls."

"What girls?" I asked. "Don't say it in that suggestive tone," she said. She shuffled through Washington's leading newspaper until she came to the women's section, then read: "The First Lady of the Land is just one of the girls when she visits Elizabeth Arden's Maine Chance health spa. She asks for no special privileges."

"Bully for Mamie!" I agreed. "Always ready to rough it like the next one. What else does it say about her?"

YMELEDA read on: "She goes through the beauty routine just the way the other dozen women dieters approach their health and figure problems. She does not stay by herself, but likes to have dinner at the long table in the main building with the other patrons enjoying a stream-lined, muscle-toning vacation with them."

"This is indeed democracy in action!" I cried. "What other inspirational nuggets are contained in this epic of stoicism?" Ymelda frowned. "I find the next paragraph a little contradictory," she admitted. She read: "Should Mamie elect to act just like everybody else again this trip, she is in for a rugged time, with delicious bird-like meals and plenty of exercise." What would you consider a delicious birdlike meal?

"I don't know," I confessed. "I never ate with a bird. However I have been with some people who ate like a giant roc. But why is Mrs. Eisenhower in for a rugged time?"

Ymelda replied by reading: "Last year she slept in a green bed, but this trip she is enjoying the comfort of a big three-quarter bed in which the decor has been devised from three shades of her favorite color—Mamie pink."

"Rugged is no name for it," I agreed. "It's worse than primitive! Why, even our pioneer women didn't have to sleep in covered wagons in three shades of pink."

Official Sees Rise In Pulp, Paper Exports

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. paper exports to Western Europe should push about 10 per cent higher within the next three years, a trade expert predicted today.

Spurred by freer trade with Common Market countries, paper shipments to the continent should climb from roughly 17,200,000 tons this year to about 19 million tons in 1962, Eric Lagerloef, secretary of the American Paper & Pulp Assn.'s (APPA) export committee, declared.

Lagerloef's report was an item on a busy docket for some 5,000 paper industry officials gathered for this week's 82nd annual APPA convention. The delegates split up into meetings of the APPA's 13 divisions and 13 regional associations, representing various segments of the industry.

Rising demand for paper in Europe, Lagerloef said, "will be greater than can be met by Western Europe's limited raw materials and production facilities. This He is a member of the National Honor Society and plans to major in either physics or mathematics when he enters college.

KEYSER — Miss Joy Suter and Robert Ludwick, both seniors at Keyser High School, have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship program and have been awarded Certificates of Merit, according to James W. Goldsworthy, acting principal.

The students, Goldsworthy said, distinguished themselves by their high scores on two college aptitude tests used in the scholarship competition which began last April.

The selection of the 700 finalists who will be awarded merit scholarships is performed by a panel of experts in academic selection, and by special judging teams.

The scholarships are four-year awards, and carry stipends that range from $100 to $1,500 a year.

Court Of Honor Held By Scout Organizations

FROSTBURG—A court of honor was held for Boy Scout Troop 42 and Air Squadron 42, both units sponsored by First Methodist Church, following chapter presentations last night in the lecture room of the church.

John L. Dunkle, chairman of the organization and extension committee of Nemacolin District, presented the charters.

Scouts receiving awards were Wayne Miller, second class, and Frederick Storm and Lawrence Layman, first class. Awarded Merit badges were John Allen, first aid, surveying, swimming and life saving; William Alder, public health; Donald Carter, V. Ross March 9 to face; and Gerald, public health, and Richard, Powell, art.

G. Franklin Martens, neighborhood commissioner, presented the second and first class awards.

Air scouts receiving merit badges were Gordon Carpenter, public health, life saving, art and first aid; Wayne Lee Lewis, public health, citizenship in the nation, scholarship and personal fitness; Rex Leese, horsemanship, first aid and surveying; Gerald Snelson, reading, citizenship in the nation and personal fitness; Ronald Ward, personal fitness, public health and citizenship in the nation; Robert Simmons, first aid and public health; Royal Miller, public health; and Robert Walker, public health.

Following the court of honor, refreshments were served by a mothers committee which included Mrs. H. Reford Aldridge, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. Varner Carpenter and Mrs. Arthur Bond.

Senate Seen Passing Road Building Bills

House Fight Over Measure Predicted By W. Va. Leaders

By BILL BARRETT United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Senate was expected to give quick approval today to bills designed to raise $7,700,000 for road construction — but a major fight was predicted when they are reported to the House of Delegates.

The Senate moved up its usual meeting time three hours in order to complete action on the bills in time to have them reported to the House later in the day. Under regular procedure they would not reach the House until Wednesday.

Included in the highway tax package was a one-cent increase in the six-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax, to raise $4,500,000; a $2,400,000 hike in motor vehicle registration fees and an $800,000 increase in driver's license fees.

The measures, approved last Friday by the Senate Finance Committee, were hurried through the amendment stage Monday without discussion.

Moving up with them was the controversial bill to place the Road Commission budget on a fiscal year, rather than calendar year, basis and require it to submit to the Legislature a detailed list of proposed spending.

Road Commissioner Paul C. Graney has objected strongly to the measure, claiming it would be "virtually impossible" to comply with while maintaining efficient operations.

Up for Senate amendments today were bills to raise $3,000,000 through a 1 per cent tax on property transfers and to raise $3,120,000 through a new $50-per-semester "entrance fee" on state college and university students.

The property transfer tax was introduced only Monday by Senate President Ralph J. Bean, but it was approved swiftly by Senate Finance and given a first reading Monday.

House leaders were expected to fight any efforts to refer the Senate's gasoline tax and other highway user tax bills to the House Finance Committee when they are reported to the lower chamber.

That committee killed the House version of the gasoline tax bill last week — reportedly when a number of pro-letadership members were absent. The same fate might befall the Senate bills, which the leadership was anxious to avoid.

But any motion to dispense with committee reference was expected to lead to a major fight.

Nine other bills were scheduled for a Senate vote today and 13 were up for House passage, most of them minor or technical.

During busy session Monday the House passed 12 bills and the Senate four, including one allowing the Public Service Commission to waive hearings for motor carrier applications on which it receives no protests. It goes to the governor to be signed into law.

Program Approved

Approved unanimously by the Senate was a House-passed bill to allow state colleges and the University to take part in a new federal student loan program. However, the House must concur in Senate amendments eliminating any reference to state matching funds—which the upper chamber decided would be unconstitutional.

The House passed for a second time a bill to increase fees to private, voluntary patients in state mental hospital clinics.

As passed by the Senate, and then by the House last Thursday, it would have upped the rate from $5 a day to $8. The House voted Friday to reconsider its vote, amended the bill Monday down to $6, and passed it in that form. It now goes back to the Senate for concurrence in the amendment.

4-H ALUMNI SALUTE — More than 14,000 4-H Club members in Maryland will observe National 4-H Club Week, February 28-March 9, according to Sherard Wilson, state 4-H Club agent. School State Aid Cut Challenged In Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Kanawha Circuit Judge Frank Taylor has heard arguments in a suit challenging a Board of Public Works order which ordered state aid to schools allocations cut by 5 per cent.

Counsel for the four county school boards which filed the declaratory judgment suit told Taylor (the state law authorizing reduction in state spending when revenue declines does not apply to appropriations of state aid.

But attorney J. Henry Francis said even if the law does apply, the statute itself is unconstitutional.

Francis represented the boards of education of Wood, Wyoming, McDowell and Hardy Counties in the suit.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Giles Snyder, representing the State Board of Public Works and Board of School Finance, contended that the court lacks jurisdiction to hear the case.

Snyder also argued that the law in question is valid and that it applies to state aid as well as to appropriations for state agencies.

Ruling Expected Soon

Taylor took the case under advisement and attorneys said they hoped to have a ruling within two weeks.

"The Budget Amendment provides no authority for the delegation of control over appropriations by the executive branch of government after they are made by the Legislature," Francis told the court. "Instead, the Amendment excludes the possibility of the grant of any such authority."

He has asked Taylor for a declaratory judgment voiding a Board of Public Works order of last Dec. 9 ordering a 5 per cent cutback in spending of all appropriations from the state general revenue fund, including state aid to county school systems.

Ordered By Director

The cutback was ordered after Budget Director George Vieweg reported that revenue for the first five months of the fiscal year was $3,500,000 short of the amount estimated when the 1958-59 budget was enacted.

Reductions ordered for the four complaining counties were $145,027 for McDowell, $74,925 for Wood, $67,029 for Wyoming and $17,860 for Hardy.

They and the other 51 counties were ordered to set aside a "reserve" equal to 5 per cent of their state aid appropriation pending a final report on revenue for the fiscal year.

Snyder told Judge Taylor that he lacks jurisdiction because no controversy in the legal sense exists between the opposing parties.

Francis admitted that the state aid cuts have not yet become final, but said the school boards he represents "are even now seriously and adversely affected" by the cutback order.

Report Made On Region's Deer Seasons

ROMNEY — Thomas Sanford, District 2 game manager for the West Virginia Conservation Commission, has released comparative deer kill figures for the last four seasons. The comparative figures are not indicative of any particular trend, he notes, due to the difference of regulations in various areas.

In Grant County, where hunting pressure has been noticeably heavy in 1955, 1956 and 1957, the season was given to "bucks only," while the past season was hunter's choice.

The kill there shows, 300 in 1955; 303 in 1956; 407 in 1957, and 1,059 in 1958.

Hamshire County shows 1,672 kills in 1955; 2,254 in 1956; 817 in 1957; all "bucks only" seasons. The hunter's choice season in 1958 pushed the total to 1,679.

The district pattern is the same for all counties, with Hardy counting 2,203 in 1955; 3,115 in 1956; 906 in 1957, and 3,114 in 1958.

Mineral County figures for the four years show: 301 in 1955; 512 in 1956; 130 in 1957, and 831 in 1958.

Morgan figures are, in the same order: 301, 512, 130 and 335, with Pendleton reporting 690, 976, 316 and 903.

Annual totals, beginning with 1955, are 6,327, 8,558, 3,011 and 9,395.

Club To Note Anniversary

FROSTBURG — The Sunnyside Club of First United Presbyterian Church, Broadway, will celebrate its 35th anniversary with a dinner Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the Sunday School rooms of the church.

Mrs. James Kim is in charge of the committee making arrangements.

The club was organized February 13, 1924, by the wife of the pastor, Mrs. Raymond Mulhard. Miss Agnes Howatt was first president. Other charter members still active are Miss Ruth R. Engle, Mrs. Louis Baker, Mrs. Joseph Evans, Mrs. Oren Leunert and Mrs. Wayne Steed.

Present officers are Mrs. Olive Alexander, president; Mrs. James Nelson, vice president; Mrs. Oren Leunert, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Martin Jamrick, treasurer.

Guests at the dinner will be the "club mothers" who have been selected from year to year.

New Measure Would Raise Tuition Fees

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Senate Finance Committee Monday reported out a committee substitute for a bill calling for increases in tuition fees at state colleges and West Virginia University.

The committee recommended that a $50-per-semester "entrance fee" be placed into effect at the institutions. It would raise some $1,700,000 at the colleges and $1,400,000 at the university and Potomac State and apply on a pro-rata basis to part-time, summer and extension students as well as full-time students.

Committee Chairman Glenn Jackson (D-Logan) noted that the substitute provides that two-thirds of the new revenue go into a special fund to finance building construction at the institutions. The remaining one-third would be used for faculty salaries.

He said the proposed revenue for salaries would provide all but about $300,000 of the amount needed to meet increases proposed in another measure. The difference would be made up from the general revenue fund, Jackson said.

The original bill called for increases in present tuition fees, now $25 a semester at colleges and $40 at the university for state residents, and $175 and $200 respectively for non-residents.

A committee spokesman said the computation of new revenue to be derived from the entrance fee was based on the fact that present tuition charges yield about $2,000,000 a year from all institutions.

Since college students would be paying $50 a year in addition to the present $50 tuition, and WVU students $100 in addition to the present $80, it was estimated that the new money would bring in one-and-one-half times as much—or something over $3,000,000.

Charcoal Plant Buys Wood From National Forest

PARSONS—Approximately 1,600 cords of wood have been sold for charcoal in the Tucker County area of the Monongahela National Forest, according to Supervisor E. M. Oliver.

Oliver added that another 1,500 cords are marked and ready for sale in the recently opened Kingsford Company charcoal plant here.

Oliver said the opening of the plant "will be an historic event for the community."

It is estimated the plant, which will consume at least 100,000 cords of wood yearly, and will employ three shifts of workers. The additional jobs and the new market for timber is expected to give the economy of the area a sizeable boost.

Oliver estimated that there are 150,000 acres of second growth National Forest land tributary to the Kingsford Company plant and its outpost yards.

He explained that thinning, culms and so-called inferior species could be removed for charcoal or pulp with benefit to the forest.

State forester Lester McClung said the new plant could be a "curse or opportunity" as far as future timber development in the area is concerned.

"We are worried about how the large amount of timber needed for this plant will be harvested on private land," McClung pointed out.

McClung said the services of four county foresters are available to landowners in the eight-county area which will produce a major portion of the wood purchased by the plant.

These foresters are located at Petersburg, Franklin, Kingwood and Philippi. They can assist landowners by marking trees which can be harvested without detriment to the overall stand.

It was disclosed at a meeting of foresters at Blackwater Lodge last week that federal ACP (Agriculture Conservation Program) funds will be allocated to 10 counties in this area to share the cost of timber stand improvement practices in immature stands.

Higher Purpose For Education Urged

BALTIMORE (AP)—President search their "hearts and con- A. Whitney Griswold of Yale University for a higher purpose for versity thinks Americans should education.

He criticized yesterday what he called the national traffic in athletic scholarships in American colleges. Most athletic scholarships, he said, are "one of the greatest educational swindles ever perpetrated on American youth."

"Whether cause or symptom, it is part of the general collapse of amateurism in American athletics and the hypocrisy practiced in its name," he said.

Griswold spoke at a program commemorating the 83rd anniversary of the founding of Johns Hopkins University.

He said the greatest need of education in America is not money or curriculum reform, but "a combination of faith and conviction that impels us to take our stated purposes seriously, to have the moral courage to practice what we preach."

New Delhi Need More Electricity

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—If everyone in this city flipped their light switches at the same time, the chairman of the Electricity Supply Committee says, it might take months to get all the lights working again.

Chairman Bhiku Ram Jain said the full load on the capital's electrical system is 200,000 kilowatts. But fortunately no more than 74,000 kilowatts is used at any one time.

The city hopes for additional electric power when the Bakura Nangal Dam begins production next year.

Predict Soviet Man In Space

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rocket expert Willy Ley predicts a man, probably a Soviet citizen, will be put in orbit around the earth within two years.

The German-born scientist said a manned station will be established in space about six to eight years from now.

He told Los Angeles State College students Monday that American scientists will not send a man into orbit until every phase of getting him back to earth has been solved. He did not indicate whether he thought the Soviets would show equal concern for space pilots' safety.

Some Males Started Life As Females

SCIENCE TODAY By DELOS SMITH UPI Science Editor NEW YORK (UPI)—The newest fruit of science's continuing investigations into the mysteries of sex indicates that as many as one out of every 400 males began their lives as females.

The beginning of life here is reckoned from the first splitting of the fertilized egg cell which, it had been thought, inevitably established the sex of the resulting individual.

There's nothing inevitable about it, science now knows. Sex can be reversed in the developing embryo and the individual who began as female or male can be born a male or a female.

The first and highly tentative estimate of how often this happens in the case of female-to-male reversal was established by Prof. Keith L. Moore of the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada. It happens the other way—from male to female—but no one yet has any idea of how often.

Moore did it by establishing the "chromosomal sex" of every infant born in a Winnipeg hospital in the course of one year. That is the most basic sex there is—that is "genetic sex." A female has two "X" chromosomes in every body cell; a male has one "X" and one "Y" chromosome.

All the infants appeared to be normal; anatomically, there was no question about the sex of any of them. Samples of their body cells were subjected to microscopic examination, without the examining scientists knowing which cells came from which anatomical sex.

Q: How do you feel about Blue Cross?

A: "No red tape for me! Blue Cross took care of my hospital bill automatically!"

"When I was in the hospital for an operation recently, I discovered how smoothly Blue Cross works. I just showed my card at the hospital and Blue Cross took care of the bill automatically. No claim filing, no waiting for reimbursement, no red tape. I'm sold on Blue Cross!"

says Charles Workman, Baker's Helper, Schmidt Baking Company, Inc., Baltimore

A: "Our company has no claims problems—Blue Cross handles everything."

"The Blue Cross coverage our company provides its employees gives them comprehensive protection against the cost of hospitalization. It's sound, reasonably-priced protection, easily incorporated into our employee benefit program. And no claim problems, either—Blue Cross handles everything! We're sold on Blue Cross, too!"

says Henry Schmidt, Treasurer, Schmidt Baking Company, Inc., Baltimore

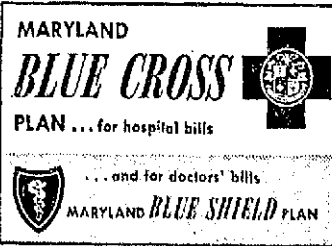

The Maryland Blue Cross Plan has only one purpose: to provide Marylanders with the greatest amount of protection against hospital bills at the lowest possible cost.

Blue Cross is non-profit—except for its extremely low operating expenses, the Plan's entire income is used to pay subscribers' hospital bills.

With Blue Cross, you're protected wherever you go—even if you move or change jobs. And as a Blue Cross subscriber you're protected after retirement—regardless of your age—for the rest of your life!

Obscene Literature Bill Before House

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Bills to integrate the Montrose Training School for Girls and to tighten restrictions against obscene literature were scheduled for floor action in the House today.

Both were approved last Friday by the Judiciary Committee which was voted down by the full House earlier when it tried to tack an amendment onto the literature bill. This time it is coming back with a compromise amendment worked out by leaders of groups generally favoring and opposing censorship legislation in this session.

The Montrose bill would delete the word "white" in describing the delinquent minor females who may be confined at the training school at Reisterstown, just north of Baltimore.

To Close Barrett Welfare officials told the committee last week this would enable them to transfer about 71 Negro girls from the Barrett Training School near Friendship Airport. Barrett must be abandoned because of aircraft noises and danger and because of plans to extend Friendship runways to handle jet aircraft, they said.

Tye told the committee it would be cheaper to transfer the Negro girls to Montrose than to build a new school for them.

At one point in Friday's committee consideration of the bill, members voted 10-9 against it, then reconsidered and approved it 14-7.

The reversal came after Del. Lowe (D-Talbot), a lawyer and freshman delegate, moved for reconsideration.

"My personal feelings are against integration," he explained, "but I feel that as a lawyer and as a citizen I am bound by the (Desegregation) rulings of the Supreme Court."

In its original form the obscene literature bill would have established a presumption that any stockholder who allowed books and magazines to be displayed on his racks would be presumed to have intended that these items be sold illegally to children.

Compromise Seen The first committee amendment merely would have deleted this section, but proponents of the bill succeeded in getting the measure referred to the committee again for a compromise amendment.

This would make it illegal to let a minor under 18 reach such literature or to display it in a store window.

The measure also would make the stockholder directly responsible for the sale of obscene, lewd or lascivious literature or photographs in his place even though the sale might actually be made by an employee.

In the Senate, a Baltimore member said he would move for reconsideration of the vote by which a railroad weekly pay bill was defeated last night.

Sponsor of the bill, said he was confident he could muster the two additional votes necessary to pass the bill and sent it to the House.

Set up to require that railroads pay their employees weekly instead of semi-monthly, the measure failed on a 13-13 tie vote.

Scholarships Studied The subjects of the day's only two main committee hearings.

The House Committee on Education met after the session to consider four pieces of legislation dealing with scholarships.

One was a resolution suggesting that a special legislative study be made of Maryland's entire scholarship program between sessions of the General Assembly.

The others were bills either to add new scholarships to the list already granted by the State or to change the method of retaining and perpetuating them.

Dels. Robinson (D-Balto 4th), McNeal, Acker and Gallagher (all Balto 3rd) proposed that 200 new scholarships be set up over a four-year period—200 new ones a year.

These would point to students who "because of financial need" would otherwise be deprived of such education as befits their efforts and ambitions. They would

Absenteeism Up In Some Schools, Down In Others

The absenteeism picture in Allegany County schools remained "confused" today with some schools reporting a sharp increase in the number of stay-at-homes due to the "flu" and others noting a decline.

A third of the enrollment at Allegany High was absent this morning and the figure grew higher as the day advanced and students became ill and went home. With an enrollment of 1,630, Allegany had 540 absent. The normal total is about 50. Yesterday 377 were absent.

At Port Hill the total at home rose from 365 yesterday to 442 today. The enrollment is 1,800 and the normal figure is 125.

Bruce School at Westernport has 177 out today as compared to 125 yesterday. The normal figure is 25 in an enrollment of 690.

Beall High which has an enrollment of 900 had 68 out today. The normal is 40. However, a number is believed to have stayed home due to the icy conditions of the streets.

At Valley High in Lonaconing, the figure went up from yesterday's 146 to 168. The normal is 35 in an enrollment of 700.

However, at Mt. Savage the worst appears to be over. Only 130 out of 733 were absent at Mt. Savage today as compared to 225 yesterday and 360 Friday.

Absenteeism at Columbia Street was down today to 46 from yesterday's 55; at Gephart it dropped from 25 to 16; at Hill Street, Frostburg, from 28 to 24; and at West Side from 54 to 51.

Mt. Royal went up from 39 to 46 and Carverville remains steady with 51 yesterday and 50 today.

LaVale had 25 out today as compared to a normal of 16; Reall Elementary had 114 out while the normal is 15.

The Hyndman-Mt. Savage basketball game at Hyndman tonight was cancelled as Hyndman's request where 103 out of an enrollment of 310 are absent. The normal figure is 15.

An executive meeting of Knob Mountain Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley, will be held tonight at 8 p. m. at the post home, will be effective tomorrow.

Fireman Resigns For ABL Position

The Mayor and Council yesterday accepted the resignation of a member of the Fire Department, who explained he had secured other employment at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

The resignation by Harry B. Davidson, who had been acting as a member of the Fire Department, will be effective tomorrow.

County Considers Tax Collection By Banks

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today discussed a proposal whereby a program for the collection of county taxes at banks could be instituted.

Commissioner William A. Wilson brought up the subject. He said he has checked into the plan in which banks collect gas and telephone bills for the utility firms. Wilson said that the cost of collecting county taxes would be much less expensive under such a plan and would also be more convenient for many taxpayers.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said that there are certain matters in connection with such a plan which should be delved into before any action is taken. He said he agreed it has merits and probably would save quite a bit of money.

Commissioner John Tucker Mallory said that legislation would probably be required to start such a plan. Leslie J. Clark, attorney on the board, said there are legal aspects of the matter which in some time.

County Considers Tax Collection By Banks

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today discussed a proposal whereby a program for the collection of county taxes at banks could be instituted.

Commissioner William A. Wilson brought up the subject. He said he has checked into the plan in which banks collect gas and telephone bills for the utility firms. Wilson said that the cost of collecting county taxes would be much less expensive under such a plan and would also be more convenient for many taxpayers.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said that there are certain matters in connection with such a plan which should be delved into before any action is taken. He said he agreed it has merits and probably would save quite a bit of money.

Commissioner John Tucker Mallory said that legislation would probably be required to start such a plan. Leslie J. Clark, attorney on the board, said there are legal aspects of the matter which in some time.

Brush Fire Doused In Rawlings Area

While rubbish was being burned on the Dewey Taylor property at Rawlings Sunday, flames ignited nearby brush and about 150 square feet were burned.

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company responded with two pieces of equipment and 22 men, but the blaze was out when they arrived.

Motorists Forfeit $347 For Parking

Motorists forfeited $347 in Police Court this morning for parking violations.

Magistrate Morris Baron, who presided, noted this is the most money forfeited in the local court in some time.

County Probates Four Wills Here

Three wills were admitted to probate today in Orphans Court.

The will of J. Milton Hawk, city, who died February 11, named his daughter, Thelma E. Uhl, as executrix and beneficiary.

The will of Annie Lewis, Eckhart, who died January 4, named her son, Reuben O. Lewis, Eckhart, as executor.

Her four children, Reuben, Harry B., Charles and Alice L. Sell were named beneficiaries.

Randall, Reiner Give Push To Desilu Play

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—CBS-TV's Desilu Playhouse sent a modest little vehicle, "Martin's Folly," down the ways Monday night.

It was an exercise a couple of spirals above the usual Desilu quack and the principal credit for this feat should go to actors Tony Randall and Carl Reiner.

Randall and Reiner, handled some fairly sticky material, shook its parts loose and then proceeded to pump glib and even a degree of believability into it. Randall, particularly, turned in a resourceful job in a part that teetered precariously on the edge of sludgy implausibility.

I don't mean to sell the play short entirely. It had a serviceable and faintly whimsical center: A store clerk devoting six years of his leisure to the building of a 40-foot craft despite the scorn of his fellows. But its course was tediously predictable and its ending so improbably upbeat and good-willish that "Martin's Folly" almost sank in its own lack of truth.

However, Randall and Reiner almost succeeded in caulked the holes, and on television we must be grateful for small things.

Short Shots: ABC-TV's Voice of Firestone, working with some surefire Broadway show tunes, turned out a mover Monday night. One of its segments—a medley sung by Patrice Munsel, Dorothy Collins, Bill Hayes and Alfred Drake as they swirled round on a carousel—was a charming piece of business. I confess, however, I am unable to ken Drake's appeal as he strikes me as a performer of robot-like stiffness.

NBC-TV's Alcoa Theatre suffered a relapse Monday night with "Corporal Hardy," a sugar-coated weeper—Low Ayres worked hard for the cause. Jonathan Winters' statement on Monday night's NBC-TV Jack Paar show that he wouldn't mind relin-ing from show business is melancholy news—He has a great creative comic mind and it's a shame TV doesn't make more use of him.

The Channel Swim: Screen Gems, an independent outfit, is planning a filmed TV series that will be built around the country-banker, David Harum—Chill Wills is ticketed in for the title role. CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theatre will dramatize the current juke box scandal on April 20 in a play called "The Sound of Violence."

CBS-TV's Du Pont Show of the Month will take a crack at an original play, Lee Pogostin's "People, People, People," for its May 25 special. A soft drink firm (Coca Cola) is trying to coax Gwen Verdon into doing a scene from Broadway's "Redhead" for its spring special on CBS-TV. Angela Lansbury will star in an ABC-TV Accused show on March 11 which was written by her brother, Bruce. Nanelle Fabray's appearance on the March 21 NBC-TV Perry Como show will be her first since having her baby, William Saroyan, whose "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Mrs. Murphy" will be done on NBC-TV's Omnibus this Sunday, has a 750,000 word autobiography, "Fifty By Fifty," stashed away in his literary trunk.

Fire Company Funds Provided

The Oldtown Volunteer Fire Company will get $938.40 from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners by virtue of a bill adopted last night in the House of Delegates.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll said the bill was sent to Governor Tawes for signing after final passage. It is Senate Bill 223, sponsored by Senator Charles M. Sec.

Senate Bill 284, which would allow the county to pay $2,000 to Friends of the Handicapped Children for a survey of handicapped children of the area was referred to the Allegany County Delegation as it came up for final reading last night.

Del. Driscoll said the bill will be resubmitted and explained it was recalled for possible clarifying amendments.

The changes, he said, would affect only the wording of the bill and not the amount.

Toronto Reject Plan To Use Helicopters

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's biggest city has rejected a suggestion that helicopters be used to control traffic.

Toronto Traffic Director Sam Cass said experience in the United States has shown the helicopters overhead result in more accidents and traffic tieups. Motorists tend to gape at them.

China has five principal religions—Confucianism, Taoism, Buddhism, Mohammedanism and Christianity.

'Hamlet' Due On Television By 'Old Vic'

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—It's a rare high school graduate who has not read or otherwise been exposed to William Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

Despite this handicap of forced reading, the play survives as one of the most fascinating in the language.

Tonight England's Old Vic Company will present a 90-minute television adaptation of "Hamlet" on Du Pont show of the Month" (CBS-TV, 9:30 p.m., EST).

Pedants may be horrified at the notion of reducing a four-hour play to 78 minutes of playing time. But pedants sometimes are in error. The important thing is not what we've cut, but what we've retained.

Nelson pointed out that Shakespeare wrote "not for the library, but for the theater; not for the scholar, but for the audience."

It seems logical to Nelson that if Shakespeare were alive today, he might possibly be writing for television.

Certainly Shakespeare, with his concern to use every theatrical device possible in the theater of his time, would be interested to see the devices employed by modern television.

The enduring popularity of "Hamlet," Nelson believes, "is the result of its saying something to everyone in every generation."

Enterprising Burglars

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—Burglars with a talent for improvisation, came upon an acetylene torch left by workmen in a supermarket. They promptly burned open the safe and took $2,000.

DRIVERS GET A BREAK—Traffic violators in Washington came to court to find their cases dismissed by the hundred yesterday. Court wasn't supposed to be in session at all. The police department admitted it got confused. It overlooked that yesterday was the legal holiday for George Washington's birthday—which fell on Sunday. Some 4,000 tickets were issued with a February 23 court date. Judge John D. Walls dismissed cases without prejudice. No one told a lie. (AP Photofax)

French Beauty Leslie Caron 'Grows Up'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Bid ye, I am a lost and frightened child who needs a home and protection.

Leslie's metamorphosis from pixie to full-fledged womanhood may prove a shock to her fans. In her new movie, "The Man Who Understood Women," the favored actress plays a movie star, complete with husband and lover.

She also has a scene in which she gets tanked on vodka.

The proportion of area of the state of Iowa actually under cultivation is larger than that of any other state.

Young Couple Greets Twins

BALTIMORE (AP)—Twins were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Gordon. The mother is 14, the father 17 and unemployed.

When the twin boys arrived yesterday at Lutheran Hospital the couple had only one name ready—Richard W. Gordon Jr.

Mother and infants were reported doing well. One child weighed 3 pounds 10 ounces and the other 3 pounds 2 ounces.

List Algeria Losses

ALGIERS (UPI)—Rebel losses in Algeria last week included 846 killed or captured, the French army reported today. Military sources said French losses included 30 killed.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Q. "I have had an irritated bowel for 5 years. Is this the same as colitis? Is there a cure?"—An Ohio reader.

A. The term "bowel" applies to the entire intestinal tract whereas "colon" refers to only the large intestine. Colitis is all too common and severe cases are none too easy to deal with. It varies from a mild spastic condition to severe inflammation of the living tissues. Cures are often possible in mild cases of colitis—less likely in advanced cases. Surgery is always considered when the condition has advanced to a point where life is threatened. The emotions seem to play a large part in causing colon flare-ups. Let a colitis patient get all worked up over some personal problem and he is likely to backslide far enough to cause months of successful treatment. Doctors do everything they can to prevent these stress-caused flare-ups.

Q. "Is a navel rupture in an 8-month-old baby harmful? Should it be taped?"—Mrs. K.D.

A. Although the common umbilical hernia (navel rupture) usually corrects itself without treatment, the condition often causes much worry among parents. Some physicians recommend taping while others believe such treatment is not only useless but also delays natural cure. A British doctor studied 100 babies with umbilical hernia. Almost all small, untreated hernias disappeared during the first year of life. Taping helped when the hernias were large.

Q. What does the word "psychosomatic" mean?

A. Psychosomatic refers to a physical disorder of the body which is caused by or aggravated by emotional processes. However, when a doctor says that a certain disorder is psychosomatic or has psychogenic causes, he does not mean that it is "all in your head" or that something is wrong mentally or that you are a neurotic. He is simply taking into consideration that no one is always in complete harmony with himself.

We are all under some emotional tension and this can affect the heart, stomach and other organs. The emotions (hate, fear, anger, and the like) are powerful forces which can and often do contribute to physical ills.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Your Horoscope

Look to the section in which your birth date appears and find your outlook for the week ahead.

For Wednesday, February 25, 1959

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Don't wait for tasks to be allotted you—except where authority should direct. Seek out means and ways yourself. The weekly exercise you will gain much ground now.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Pleasant indications. The aspects especially favor personal matters, the artistic, religious, activities requiring finesse, delicacy, skill. This can be YOUR day if you make it so.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Your natural optimism and enthusiasm for "doing" can lead to a mine of success, but be cautious. Don't scatter your energies.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—A plan to work with a microscope that will carry you through to victory. A good beginning is half the battle. Unexpected developments must be evaluated carefully. Avoid excessive worry.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Beneficent influences should whet your appetite for achievement. A kind word, an encouraging helping hand, be you will be rewarded with interest in the future. Live within your means.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Anticipate problem areas. Work out logical solutions. In respect to your effort so will be results. A candid diagnosis of last week's performance, may point out needed revision.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Progressive action is needed now. Keep "up to snuff"—even where minor details are concerned.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—With not much planetary help to go on now, you can still make big headway, ease the way for new advances in the future. Work toward this. There are many chances for later gains.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Do not become excited if you mislay anything, nor easily provoked if others irritate you. Take things in stride, and give this day plenty of your inborn sense of humor and good old common sense.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 24 (Capricorn)—You can make this day productive and fruitful merely by lending your intelligent know-how judiciously, with out strain. Even in seemingly small tasks there is important reward.

JANUARY 25 to FEBRUARY 24 (Aquarius)—Good opportunities now for branching out into new fields, or brushing up on latent talents. Is there something you have wanted to do and have not gotten around to yet? Why not try?

FEBRUARY 25 to MARCH 24 (Pisces)—A fairly good outlook. But know what you are about. Be eager and anxious to attain. Building, renovating, agriculture, study especially favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are of the Zodiacal Sign Pisces, and have Neptune as your most outstanding planet. You could be a student of ancient history, a writer, an archeologist, a teacher. Whatever you choose for your life's work, however, you can succeed at it if you will meet problems half way. Remain at ease, and shun worry. You can be not only very successful, but happy. Centrate on your latent talents and don't be too reticent. (King Features, Inc.)

Thruway Reviewed

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum is in Baltimore today where the State Roads Commission will make a final review of the second section of the Industrial Highway segment of the Cumberland Thruway. Bids will be advertised in the near future. The section runs from West Street in Williams Street.

Offers Invocation

Rev. Louis L. Emerick, pastor of Union Grove Methodist Charge, offered invocation prior to the opening of yesterday's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Sheriff Asks Jail Quarters Be Remodeled

A lengthy discussion took place today between Sheriff Paul Haberlein and the Allegany County Commissioners on work necessary to provide the sheriff with suitable living quarters in the county jail building for his family.

The sheriff said he hopes to move into the jail building in June and there is much work to be done to make the quarters suitable. He said that two of the rooms can be painted but that there is some remodeling work to be done.

He was authorized to go ahead with the painting project and in the meantime was asked to list what needs to be done in repairs and installation of facilities.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, said he was concerned over the bill pertaining to the sheriff's office which is to be introduced at the Legislature. Haberlein said he is interested in deputies being allowed one meal per day when they work longer than the normal schedule.

The commissioners and sheriff will decide on the provision for heat, light, telephone and facilities for the sheriff in the jail building. Haberlein said he would like it in writing so there would be no mixup at some later date.

Births

LOAR—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer, RD 1, Frostburg, a son this morning in Miners Hospital.

ROSE—Mr. and Mrs. John R. RD 3, Bedford, a son this morning in Memorial Hospital.

be worth $800 a year to on-campus students and $400 to those living at home while attending college.

The House Banking and Insurance Committee met this morning to discuss a bill which give subscribers to casualty and surety insurance a chance to ask for public hearings on proposed rate increases. This would follow the procedure now employed in applications for boosts in public utility rates.

Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th) last night proposed a similar bill to cover holders of fire insurance policies. His would go a step further by requiring insurance companies to advertise proposed increases.

Talks Resume In Effort To Avert Strike

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America were to resume negotiations today in an effort to head off a strike of C&P workers throughout West Virginia.

Federal Mediator Joseph C. Wright arranged the 2 p. m. meeting following an unsuccessful effort by company officials and union representatives last weekend to reach an agreement. A two-day "cooling off" recess was then called.

The contract affecting some 4,100 C&P workers expired 11 days ago.

Before the talks were broken off late Saturday, the company made what it termed was its final offer. The union rejected it. Wright arranged a new session just when it appeared the union was ready to call a strike.

The last time the CWA called a general strike against the company was seven years ago. Supervisory personnel and non-union employees kept telephone exchanges operating in most areas.

Meter Receipts Up

Harry M. Whisner, meter inspector, reported proceeds amounting to $746.41 from the city's parking meters for the week ending February 15. The total represents an increase of $12.70 from the previous week's report.

Youth Needs Home; County Board Appeals

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today asked that a public appeal be made in behalf of an 18-year-old youth whose father must enter Newton D. Baker VA Center by Sunday for treatment.

The father is a veteran of World War I and has no permanent residence and the boy had been living in Arizona with his mother but returned here recently due to conditions in the home. The mother and father have been separated for some years.

Sheriff Paul Haberlein brought the matter to the attention of the commissioners today. He said the youth is over the age where the Welfare Board can place him in a foster home, but he is willing to work on a farm or for anyone who will give him room and board.

Just how long the father will have to stay in the veterans hospital is not known, but the boy needs temporary shelter. The boy had worked for a company which packaged dates in Arizona. He said he hopes eventually to get a job so he can support himself. The father has very little income.

Anyone who has quarters and will provide room and board for the youth may contact James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county board, at the Court House.
